Foreword

This second Centers edition of GARNET AND BLACK is proudly and happily presented by the students of the five off-campus Centers whose activities the volume records. While they are an integral part of the Carolina Community, the Centers are developing individual lives of their own; this is the pictorial history of another fruitful academic year.

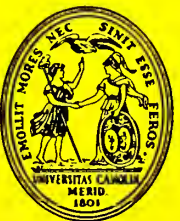

The five Centers are designed to provide the first two years of University training in most fields. Their students, for the most part, would have been found on other college campuses had this program not come into being. Its existence, however, has made it possible for them to begin their higher education in an atmosphere which combines the personal attention of the small school and the resources of the large University. Housed in attractive buildings provided by the communities involved, staffed and administered by University personnel, the Centers play a role of ever-increasing significance in the educational life of South Carolina.

Dr. William H.
Patterson

Dedication

We respectfully dedicate this yearbook to DR. WILLIAM H. PATTERSON, Dean of the University. For seven years as Dean of Administration and as Dean of the University he has given his full support and encouragement to the development of the University Centers, playing a vital role. In spite of his busy schedule he has given unsparingly of his time to advise and help those with administrative responsibilities whenever the welfare of the program required such action. Without his support the Centers could not have achieved their great success in meeting the higher educational needs of South Carolina. As much as any man Dean Patterson has given substance to the University of South Carolina's proud claim, our campus—the state!

AIKEN COUNTY CENTER

WILLIAM CECIL CASPER
Resident Director

The Aiken County Center of the University of South Carolina, established three years ago, has steadily pushed onward toward becoming an outstanding part of the University's off-campus system. It has consistently maintained the University's high standard of excellence and at the same time increased its enrollment.

Housed in a handsome old Southern mansion on a four-acre lot with stately trees, twining ivy and camellias and azaleas of another era, the Center offers up-to-date, quality education in almost every field. A student may earn two years' credit in the fields of arts and sciences, education, business administration, engineering, journalism, law, pharmacy and medicine. A complete two-year secretarial program is offered, too, for persons interested in specializing in that field, and nursing courses are to be expanded as needed.

In addition to freshman and sophomore resident credit requirements, the Aiken County Center offers courses of special interest in the community. This year, classes in archaeology, real estate, insurance and industrial statistics attracted many adults from Aiken and surrounding areas. Teachers in the area, too, took advantage of the graduate education courses offered to help them achieve or maintain their certification ratings.

A up-to-date library has recently been completed, and other improvements are planned soon.

students an opportunity to take part in other areas besides the classroom and laboratory. A well-organized student council promotes special holiday dances and other events during the school year, and the successful sports program is enthusiastically backed by students and faculty alike. The campus paper, planned, written and made up by the students and printed on the presses of the local daily newspaper, attracts students interested in that field. Other activities are offered to suit the tastes and talents of all.

As one Aiken County Center student expresses it: "We are proud to be a part of such a fine institution, for here we have formed not only the basis for many lasting friendships but also we are receiving a solid foundation on which to build for the rest of our education and our lives."

Aiken County Center students and their parents, alike, are grateful to the citizens of the county and the University officials who made the establishment of the center possible. A debt of gratitude is due Sen. Edward C. Cushman, Jr. for his tremendous interest and efforts and to all other members of the county legislative delegation and to Mr. Francis A. Townsend, chairman of the county's higher education commission, and the other commission members: Don D. Kennedy, Charles F. Kneece, Julian D. Ellett, Elden Jones, George Parks, Eugene Sawyer and Raymond Warner.

BEAUFORT CENTER

JOHN JOSEPH DUFFY
Resident Director

In July, 1959, the University of South Carolina and Beaufort Higher Education Committee, which consists of Marvin H. Dukes, Chairman; T. Parker Jones, Vice Chairman; Mrs. Lee Bradburg, Secretary; Howard P. Cooper; and Jerry Reeves, began operating the Beaufort Center. The first classes met in September in five rooms of historic Beaufort College Building. Since 1959 the student body has grown from seventy to one hundred thirty five, and the faculty has increased from six to fifteen. The Center offers a full two-year university program.

The Center now occupies the entire ante-bellum college building. For the first time in more than a hundred years, this historic building is being used for the purpose for which it was built. Extensive restoration of the building was begun this spring. When the 1964 Fall session opens the University students will attend an esthetically pleasing and functionally adequate building.

The convenient location of the Center enables these students to receive a quality education at an economy price. To assure the maintenance of standards, all faculty members are chosen by department heads at the Columbia Campus.

The University operates a complete day and evening session. In this way courses are available in the daytime to regular college age students and at night to military and adult students. Beaufort, Colleton, Hampton, and Jasper Counties as well as the military bases in the area are represented in the student body. The Center also attempts to serve the general educational needs of the area by furnishing facilities for extension courses in educational and non-academic courses, such as piloting, which are of general interest to adult students.

The Center has continued to expand its activities to meet the educational needs of the area. New courses have been added each school year. The two-year secretarial training course represents the most recent addition. The Center has prospered and will continue to prosper because it meets a real need for higher educational opportunity in one of South Carolina's most rapidly developing regions.

COASTAL CAROLINA CENTER

E. M. SINGLETON
Resident Director

During the summer of 1954 a number of citizens of Horry County created the Coastal Educational Foundation, an eleemosynary corporation for the establishment of a junior college in Conway. To this end they enlisted the help of their own public school officials, secured the sponsorship of the College of Charleston, and solicited their fellow citizens for financial support. The Coastal Carolina Junior College opened September 20, 1954, with an initial enrollment of fifty-three students.

From September, 1954, through June of 1958, the Coastal Carolina Junior College was an off-campus branch of the College of Charleston. During this period a thriving summer school was established which rivaled the regular session in registrants and enthusiasm. The summer school offerings were designed primarily for the teachers of the public school system.

In September, 1958, Coastal Carolina Junior College became an independent institution and continued as such until the fall of 1960 when it became an integral part of the University system. The College was renamed as the University of South Carolina Coastal Carolina Center.

In the Fall of 1963 Coastal Carolina moved into its new building. The two-storied, colonial-style building is located on a 128-acre campus between Myrtle Beach and Conway. The campus is presently being beautifully landscaped with trees, shrubbery, and grass. Plans are also made to construct a Student Union Building when funds are available, and an athletic stadium by 1964.

At the present time, courses being taught include: English, French, Spanish, history, political science, real estate, accounting, economics, typing, shorthand, business law, engineering drawing, sociology, algebra, trigonometry, analytical geometry, calculus, physics, education biology, botany, chemistry, physics, arts, and music appreciation.

The Coastal Carolina Center has many and varied extra-curricular activities for students to participate in. This year they fielded a basketball and baseball team in the Carolina League and also has student organized softball and bowling teams. The Circle K service fraternity is very active, and has several projects going at all times. The Student Council promotes many dances and activities during the year and serves to strengthen the bond between faculty and students. The center also has a very fine newspaper, The Chanticleer; a yearbook staff; and a 14-voice chorus.

The new building that houses the Center could not have been built without the aid of the Horry County Higher Education Commission. The men worked long and hard for the Center. The Chairman is Rev. S. George Lovell, and other Commissioners include Collins A. Spivey, James P. Blanton, Ernest F. Southern, Joseph W. Holliday, Rev. Morgan B. Gilreath, J. C. Hipp, Thurman W. Anderson, Lloyd Causey, Eugene H. Carmichael, Eldred E. Prince, D. W. Green, Jr., E. Craig Wall, Charles Tilghman, Dr. R. C. Smith, and Mrs. W. C. Cameron.

FLORENCE CENTER

J. C. McCOLLISTER
Resident Director

Located on a tree-shaded expanse of peaceful land, the University of South Carolina at Florence is an impressive campus; it is an overt expression of the faith of the citizens of the Pee Dee area in the young people of their region. Modern, well-equipped Stokes Hall affords the students a building for classes and activities. Wallace Hall has been renovated to give the collegiates an attractive student union building. The one hundred acres of land and Wallace Hall were deeded to the Pee Dee Educational Foundation by Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Wallace and Mr. Walter B. Wallace. The University Committee of the Florence Chamber of Commerce was organized in 1959 to raise funds with which to provide the University with a permanent campus; in the same year the Pee Dee Educational Foundation was chartered.

The University of South Carolina at Florence offers a two-year course of study for anyone following a curriculum leading to a degree from the University of South Carolina. Electives broaden the scope of course offerings and give students an opportunity to become informed in a variety of subjects.

An integral part of the University complex is its extra-curricular activities, and USCF offers its student body a variety of opportunities for self expression, service, and social gatherings. The Circle K, a service fraternity, is an active body assisting in University and community projects. There is a student publication, Cock-Tales, through which the students may express their views on important campus matters. A girls' service sorority is being organized. The student council serves as a line of communication between the faculty and the student body.

The main purpose of the Center—to provide the opportunity for the youth of this area to receive a higher education—has been accomplished. However, the college will not now cease to improve and enlarge itself. Among the hopes of the Center is the desire for an expanded library in a new, separate building. It is the wish of the students and the administration and faculty to have a gymnasium which would give USC<sup>F</sup> a complete athletic program. Course offerings have been greatly expanded in the last few years, and it is hoped that noncredit workshops, conferences, and short courses for adults will soon be initiated. This curricular expansion would meet immediate educational needs of the community and give area adults an opportunity to increase their knowledge.

The Florence County Higher Education Commission, a legally constituted body established by the Florence County Delegation, has been instrumental in the success of the Florence Center. Dr. J. Howard Stokes, Mr. R. Davis Thompson, Mrs. O. T. Finklea, Dr. J. D. Whitehead, and Mr. C. Dewey Munn make up the commission whose responsibility is to provide finances for building and campus maintenance and to furnish educational material. The commission also serves as a representative body from the community to the higher education officials of the state.

LANCASTER CENTER

E. DON HERD, JR.
Resident Director

The Lancaster Center of the University of South Carolina opened its doors on September 21, 1959, with a student body of 51 students. Since that date the student body has doubled and tripled. Besides the normal freshman-sophomore course offerings the Lancaster Center has an active adult education program handled through its University Community College. The Lancaster Center, in conjunction with the Division of General Studies and Extension, also makes available special graduate courses for public school teachers of the area.

The programs of the Lancaster Center served 514 students and adults during 1963-64. Classes are continually scheduled from 9 a. m. to 10 p. m. thus affording university education at a time that would be convenient for all segments of the Lancaster Community.

At present the Lancaster Center is housed in three buildings in downtown Lancaster. The Center building, Williams Hall, is a three-story former residence that has been converted from University use. Located in Williams Hall are: the administration offices, the Center Library, three classrooms, student lounge, student canteen, biology laboratories, microfilm reading room, series of faculty offices and several storage rooms. Adjacent to Williams Hall is a small laboratory building which contains the chemistry laboratories. In a nearby commercial building the growing Center has recently acquired some 5,000 sq. feet of floor space that now houses the Secretarial

New campus with proposed library and student activities building.

Training Department, Art Studio and Ceramics Department.

In the spring of 1965 the Lancaster Center will move to its new permanent campus, two miles north of Lancaster. The first building on the new campus will house the administrative offices, library, classrooms, laboratories and auditorium. Two buildings are now on the drawing board to meet the future growth of the Center—a student activities center and a library.

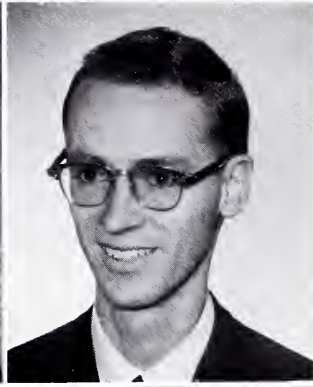

The actual operation and maintenance of the Lancaster Center is a joint project of the Division of General Studies and Extension of the University and the Lancaster County Educational Commission. This Commission is composed of seven important Lancaster County citizens: Julian E. Starr, Jr., chairman; Dr. William E. Sims, Jr., vice-chairman; Ned Gregory, treasurer; William Heath Ellis, secretary; James F. Hinson; Dr. William L. McDow; and Ray Faulkenberry, County Superintendent of Education.

Since its establishment in 1959, the Lancaster Center has been under the direction of E. Don Herd, Jr. Besides Mr. Herd's administrative duties, he is also assistant professor of American History. Like the student body, the faculty has constantly grown since the inception of the Center. The faculty now numbers 15 full or part-time instructors representing ten academic disciplines. The Lancaster Center is proud it is able to offer the finest educational opportunities for the students of the Lancaster area.

AIKEN CENTER STUDENT COUNCIL

Members of the Student Council of the Aiken County Center are elected by the students to serve as a median between the students and the administration. All student functions are regulated by Council with the approval of the faculty advisor.

All major elections, dances, and contests are sponsored by Student Council. Each class is represented on Council. The president, vice president, and student council member-at-large from each class, plus the four Council officers compose the student governing body.

The Aiken Student Council meets every first and third Thursday of each month. These meetings serve as an open forum for any student who wishes to express his opinion on Student Government of campus activities.

In order for a person to be eligible for a Student Council office he must be a full-time student and maintain a 2.0 grade point ratio.

Student Council is important to our school because it regulates and coordinates student activities and promotes school spirit and welfare.

In providing and establishing extra-curricular activities, we, of the Beaufort Center, attempt to meet the intellectual, athletic and social needs of the students. For the athletic we have baseball and bowling. Our baseball team, complete with cheerleaders, is very promising. The bowling team, with people who average as high as 175, has been organized for the first time this year.

We also boast a chess team and a bridge team. Each of these teams will participate in intra-and inter-Center competition.

We also have the Chic-Chat, our weekly newspaper, to inform the students of events on and around campus. The Chic-Chat is sponsored by the Student Government of the Beaufort Center, and its editor is Dennis Tuten.

Another innovation this year is the literary magazine, "The Pink Elephant." Contributions to this magazine come from the student body. The selections in the magazine have been of high literary calibre. The editor of this magazine is George Petersen.

STUDENT COUNCIL

The Student Council of Coastal Carolina works the entire school year to promote activities for the students and to promote the name of the center. The council works hand in hand with the faculty in all of its projects.

The council starts the year off by having a small informal party so that the students will get to know each other. They also have other dances and parties during the year, including a Christmas Dance, a May Dance, and a beach party in the Spring. The Student Council is in charge of the May Queen and Miss Coastal Carolina beauty contests and stages coronations complete with pomp and pageantry. Elections are held in April for Student Council positions and there is always a lot of competition and campaigning for these positions.

The President of the Student Council makes many speeches during the year to many different groups in an effort to promote better community relations and to generate more interest in the center. The council makes sure that all parties and dances are well-chaperoned and well-planned. This presents a good picture of the center to the public and future students.

FLORENCE CENTER STUDENT GOVERNMENT

The Student Government is at the present time serving a dual purpose at USCF; it serves as the Honor Court and as a representative of the student body. The student council is working with the faculty to formulate a Constitution which provides for an Honor Court that will eventually assume the honor duties now performed by the student government.

The student council is in charge of the elections and social events; it also represents the student body to the community, to the faculty, and to the other centers.

LANCASTER CENTER STUDENT GOVERNMENT

This is the Lancaster Center's first year to have a full-fledged and active Student Council. Officers elected by the student body in October to serve on the Student Council for 1963-64 were as follows: President, Ralph Davis; Vice-President, Kerry Fossett; Secretary, Don Roberts; Treasurer, Donna Jo Hendley; Sophomore Representatives, Cornelia Harper and Joe Gates; Freshmen Representatives, Brenda Hinson and Toby Craig.

Because of personal reasons and dropouts, several members found it necessary to resign their posts on the council. Elected to fill these vacancies were Donald Roberts as President and Brenda Hinson as secretary.

The Student Council has sponsored several (informal) parties for the students, the Miss Lancaster Center Beauty Pageant, and organized a committee to draw up a constitution for the Center.

Faculty advisors are Russell Benton and John Lane.

FLORENCE CENTER STUDENT ASSISTANTS

The student assistant program is an integral part of the University of South Carolina at Florence, providing a great deal of work and effort in behalf of both the students and the faculty. In their various capacities the students are entrusted with special responsibilities in operating the library, office, and science laboratories. These assistants do many jobs which are time-consuming, thus leaving the professors free to perform more important tasks.

FLORENCE CENTER CIRCLE K CLUB

The Circle K is a service fraternity whose members are chosen on the basis of character, leadership, and service. It assists the University and community organizations in worthwhile fund-raising projects. Improvement and beautification of the campus and campus buildings are also aims of this organization.

LANCASTER CENTER CIRCLE K CLUB

The Circle K Club is not a social fraternity; it is a service organization for college men operating on the campus and is similar to other service clubs. Members are selected by the faculty advisors on the basis of character, leadership, and dependability.

The Circle K Club provides an opportunity for development of leadership, good citizenship, education, and self-expression, as well as giving members a chance to participate in civic programs. The Circle K maintains an important tie with the community and enhances the campus-community relationship.

Officers this year are; President, Bucky Hardin; Vice-President, Donnie Snipes; Secretary, Lynn Wallace; Treasurer, Toby Craig; also the Board of Directors: Mac McConnell, Gary Flowers, Jim Conner, and Mike Pinson.
